TINY TOT PLAYGROUND AREA

(JUANA BRIONES PARK, SOUTH PALO ALTO, OFF ARASTRADERO ROAD)

The target is the Tiny Tot area of Briones Park---the northeast corner, which is bounded by wooden fence on the north and east sides, and by dirt/gravel walkway on the south and west sides.

Walk all around the target area. Sit in a swing or on a bench and note the variety of structures: especially note the benches, swings, picnic tables, a large A-frame structure, and the locomotive. Note also the variety of substances on the ground: sand, grass, bark, cement, dirt/gravel. Note the vegetation. Then spend some time on the locomotive---go down the slide, peek inside, climb on top, etc.

Feeling: hot, sunny, cool breeze (that sunny cool breeze)
 Sounds: people talking; walking in sand; birds; airplane going over; water fountain Sight: brown wood, green trees & grass; horizontal lines of fence feeling of openness & height from A frame structure brown - green tree & grass; lines of fence height from a forum structure
